

Royal de Boer Barn Equipment

Where cows feel at home

Royal de Boer and cow comfort

Royal de Boer, since 1869 supplier of products that help cattle farmers get the most out of their barns.

Attention to cow comfort is one of the founding fathers of Royal de Boer. It was clear to us even then that investing in cow comfort pays off. If your cows feel comfortable in their environment, they will lie down longer and produce more milk. The barn equipment of Royal de Boer takes care of that!

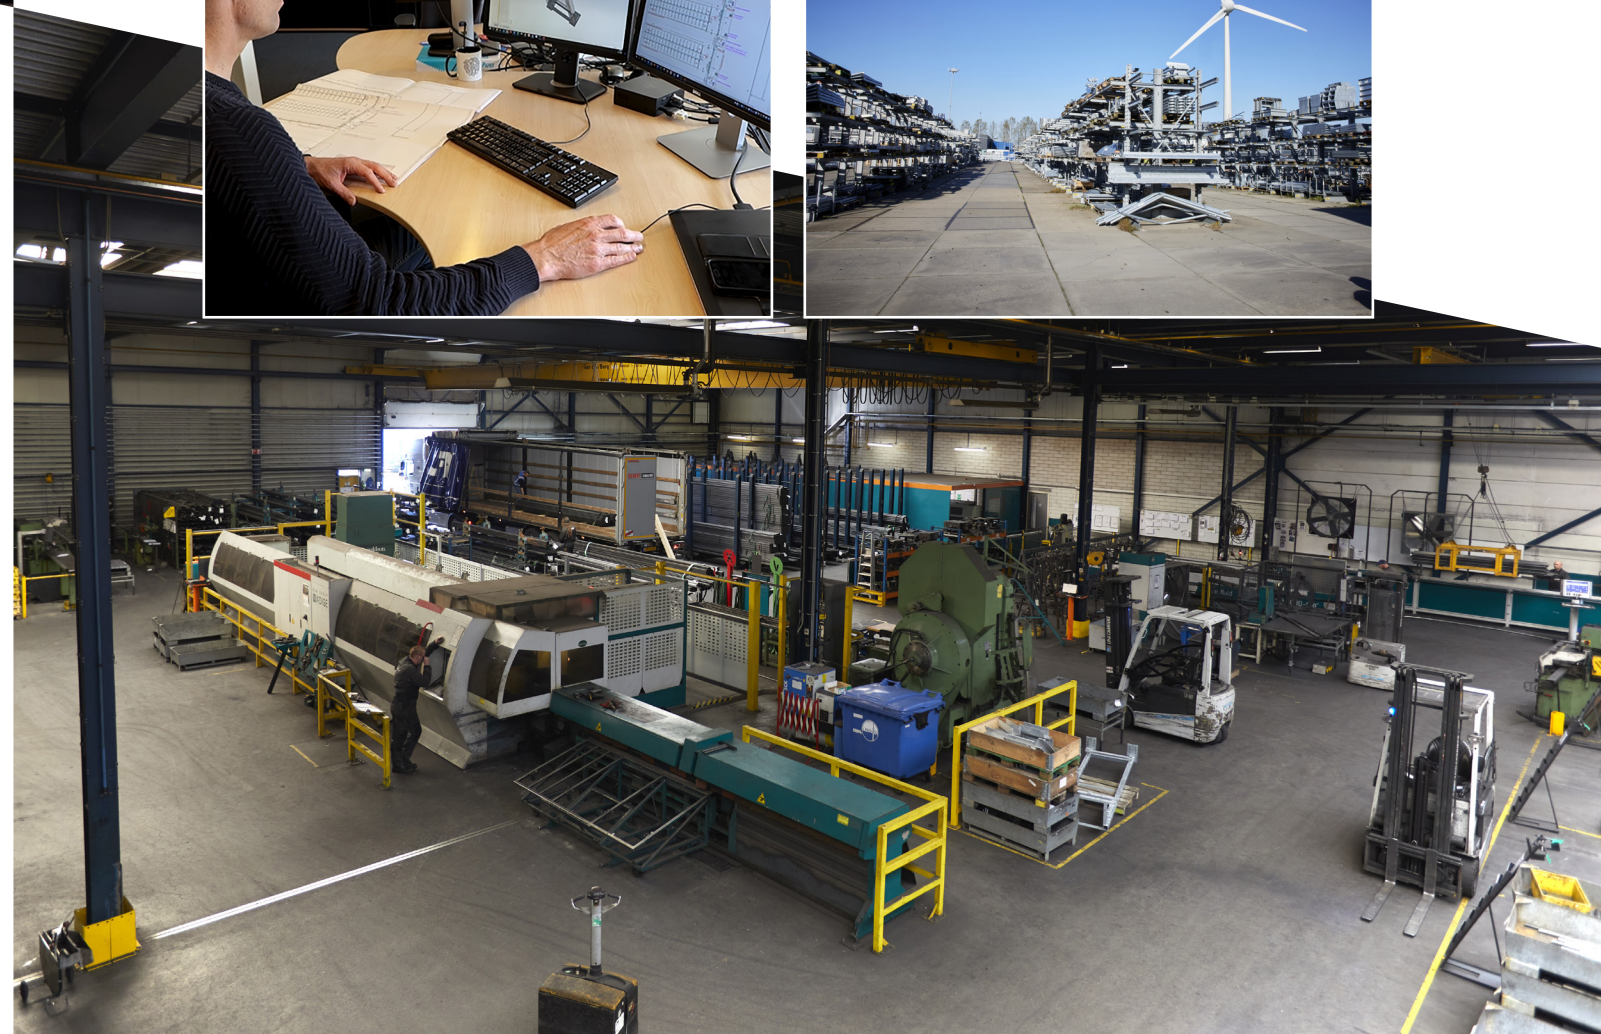

Our cubicles, cow mattresses and feeding fences are well thought-out and developed thanks to our many years of experience. When your cows are comfortable your farm performs better!

We provide a barn where the cow feels at home

We have been supplying products used by dairy farmers for more than 100 years. With the expertise we have gained over the years in development and designing efficient barns, we can ensure that both cows and people feel at home.

No barn is the same, and every farmer has his own requirements. With our wide range of solid quality products, we respond to the individual needs of each farmer. At Royal de Boer we work together with the dealer and the farmer as a team to build a barn where cows feel at home.

We provide the total solution for a barn where all the equipment work seamlessly together. Lying comfort, feeding and water supply, cow traffic, hygiene, manure removal and climate. For all solutions we offer various products in different price ranges.

Barn equipment

Comfort for the cow and the farmer.

Royal de Boer offers a complete portfolio; consisting of cubicles, bedding systems, feeding fences, young livestock housing, water supply and cow routing. A portfolio that contains products with standard, advanced and premium versions for every solution. A portfolio that can accommodate virtually any customer requirement. Comfort for the cow, but also for the farmer, is the main priority.

After all, a healthy cow without stress performs better and lives longer. Together with your dealer, we ensure the optimal result for your barn. Our barn designers create the layout with a view to efficiency, cow comfort and, of course, profitability. From concept to realisation. Your new or renovated barn, where your cows feel at home!

Don't you want your cows to have the best possible environment in which to feel at home? Good barn design contributes to the well-being of your cows.

Royal de Boer gives you the opportunity to equip your barn to measure with our wide range of barn equipment. Our farm designers provide the best solution.

Together with you and your dealer we will come with the best solution for you and your cows to enjoy every day for many years! Royal de Boer has been the barn equipment developer for a total solution since 1869.

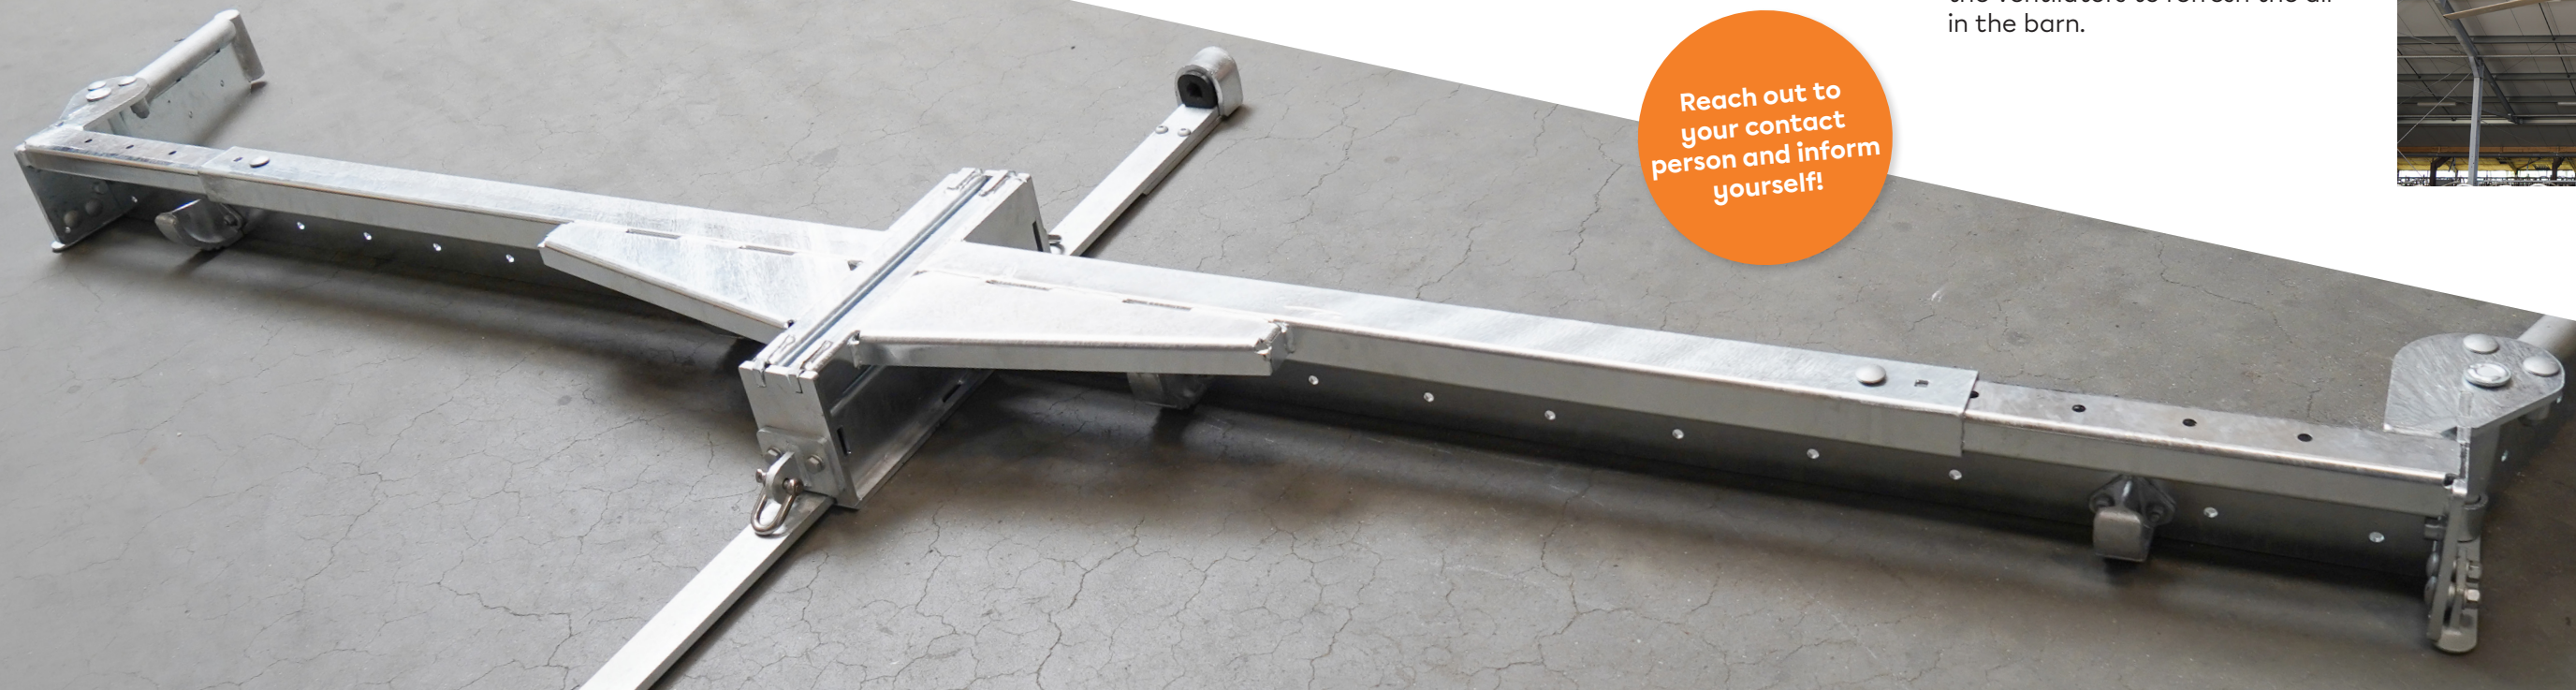

Manure handling

Nothing requires as much experience as “manure technology”, no manure type is the same, no barn is the same. Manure handling is therefore a real specialism. Our specialism.

Royal de Boer delivers a very complete portfolio for the handling of manure flows. Manure scrapers, manure pumps or our manure robot are just some of the products we can supply to handle your manure optimally.

Your dealer supports you with the necessary products and and service to come to the best solutions already in the designing phase.

Climate control

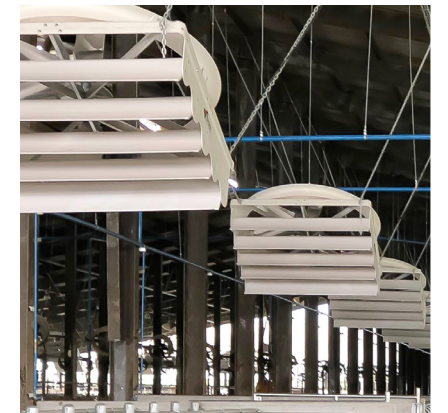

Cows are top athletes; to perform well, a good barn climate is essential. In particular, heat and possible heat stress can have a huge impact on the cow.

Royal de Boer offers a complete range of sidewall curtains, doors and ventilators to manage the climate around your animals. The ideal combination for optimal climate control with manually or fully automated ventilators and curtain systems to protect your animals.

With our extensive Galebreaker programme, we offer you a high-quality product to suit almost any barn.

With our wide range of cooling fans, you can protect your animal from from heat and stress during warm days.

During winter months you can use the ventilators to refresh the air in the barn.

Reach out to your contact person and inform yourself!

Mission, Vision

Mission

Where cows feel at home

We deliver the products and knowledge that create the best living environment for cows, so that the farmer can work efficiently and achieve optimal results.

Vision

We deliver quality in everything we do. We are pioneering and innovative, in both our products and our services. We lead the way, we are ground-breaking. We do this together with our customer. In a constantly changing world, we identify and respond to opportunities. We create such flexibility through standardisation and modularity.